

IMPROVING INDIGENT DEFENSE

The Office of the State Public Defender's Indigent Defense Improvement Division provides assistance and training to county public defender offices, appointed private counsel and counsel appointed to represent juveniles, and engaging in related efforts for the purpose of improving indigent defense.

Does your office want to collaborate on training or a project involving indigent defense? Contact us below!

DETAILS

MCLE Credit provided pending approval from the State Bar

CONTACT

WEBSITE:

www.ospd.ca.gov

EMAIL:

IDIDtraining@ospd.ca.gov

IMPROVING INDIGENT DEFENSE

Strategies and Tactics for Defense Attorneys

Office of the State Public Defender's (OSPD) Indigent Defense Improvement Division is excited to present training on new legislation impacting criminal justice for indigent defendants. Our calendar will be updated as we secure additional dates.

These trainings are for defense counsel only

January 2022

ALL TRAININGS AT NOON UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED

1/7/22: A trial lawyer's role in preparing clients and cases for youthful offender parole [Franklin Packets and PC 3051], with Heidi Rummel, Clinical Professor Of Law And Director, Post-Conviction Justice Project at USC.

Registration: Zoom Registration Link

1/13/22: First Amendment rights and racism in criminal cases involving rap lyrics. Protecting artists from having their lyrics used against them in court, with Jack Lerner, Clinical Professor and Director, Intellectual Property, Arts, And Technology Clinic, UC Irvine.

Registration: Zoom Registration Link

1/28/22: Reading, Understanding, And Using Your Client's C-File to Best Advocate at A Resentencing Hearing, With Susan Champion, Deputy Director, Three Strikes Project at Stanford.

Registration: Zoom Registration Link